December 21, 2011

Dear Students, Parents and Friends,

Christmas, New Year 2012 and the Chinese New Year of the Water Dragon are coming upon us, beginning this month. Happy Holiday season to all my friends, parents and dear students!

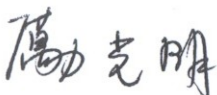

Our annual Chinese New Year gala will be celebrated on February 18, 2012. The festivities will be held at Maxim's, the largest restaurant in Chinatown with an 8-course round of gourmet dishes. There will be Sifus' demos from different schools across the U.S. along with our very own Team White Leopard and our future members of the team and champions from our children's class. Our fantastic Dragon and Lion Dances will also be performed to bring in the New Year of the Dragon.

As with any successful event, we need your support and participation. With limited seating, please buy your tickets early from Mrs. Lee.

Single tickets.....$38 (General table seating)
General table.....$370
Special table.....$430
VIP table.....$530

This year's workshop will be held on Friday, February 17 from 5:30 – 8:30pm. I will teach the effective, economic movement of powerful, intrinsic force of Wu Style Push Hand technique. This magical yet practical collection of superior push hand techniques is rarely seen in public practice. It will include multiple applications of Wu's thirteen push hand manipulations. Additionally, I will teach Great Grand Master Ma's "wrapping the root": the special foot manipulations in push hands for hooking, blocking, trapping, stamping, etc. It is a jewel of Wu's Tai Chi legacy. We can teach only 50 students so please register early to assure your place. The cost is $250 per person. Pa Kua and My Jhong students will benefit from these special sticky hand techniques for sparring in crowded situations.

Sincerely,

Master Lee
